Product Installation

These pedestals are designed for use on predominantly flat decks and are suitable for flat roofs, podium decks, balconies, terraces, and walkways that have a minimal fall for drainage (Balance Pedestals are self levelling up to 5% (2.86° or 1 in 20 fall).

They should be placed on structural decks that are sufficiently strong enough to support the weight of the system. It is important to ensure that waterproofing membranes are adequately protected before the installation of paving or decking systems, to prevent point loading and/or puncturing of the membrane.

Pedestals are typically loose-laid without mechanical fixings or adhesive, allowing them to move independently from the structural building and prevent stress points. However, if securing the pedestals to the subdeck is necessary (ensuring that waterproofing seals are not compromised), mechanical fixings can be installed through a series of holes moulded into the baseplates.

The placement of pedestals depends on various factors, and Wallbarn Technical staff are available to provide advice on recommendations based specifically on your project.

Other Accessories

There are a number of accessories that can be used with our pedestals, such as edge plates, levelling shims, Acoustic pads or profile edge plates. The use of these are dependent on your project's detail. The Wallbarn Technical Team will be able to advise on the use of these.

Maintenance Details

The pedestals are designed for long-term coverage without disturbance. It is essential to keep gaps between paving slabs or decking boards clear of debris to ensure proper drainage of the upper surface and prevent ponding and slip hazards.

The cavities between the structural subdeck and the surface material (paving or decking) should be inspected regularly, at least once per year, to make sure that drainage channels remain unblocked and that flammable materials do not accumulate. Jets of water should be used to clear limited amounts of debris, taking care to avoid blocking or damaging drainage outlets.

For significant or compacted debris build-up, it may be necessary to remove the upper surface (paving or decking system) to clear the debris effectively. If needed, this removal should be carried out using machines.
